This Never Happened.
"My dear husband," said the confidag young wife, "you said some awfuly strange things in your sleep last

"Did I? What did Lany?" asked the getting ready for almost any-"You talked about Tull houses' and curties' and 'kittles' and 'edges' and tot of unrelated things like that That ded it mean, dear?"

"My dear," answered the culprit, athering all his faculties for the sureme effort of his life, "It didn't mean as much as you suspect. As a matter of fact, I had been playing poker all the evening, and the things I said in my alsep were poker terms which I all be glad to explain to you at a more convenient time."

"My husband is perfectly honest, after all!" sighed the lady happily. And the went to sleep and never referred to the subject again.-Cleveland Plain

When You Are Thred Mentally.

Active exercise will not rest you from mental work.

When you are tired with mental work," says a well known physician, "do not think you must take active ex-arche. That will make you more weary. All you need its rest and more air in your tangs. Sit flown quietly and com-fortably and breathe deeply twenty. five times. Rest a moment and repeat. "This air forced into the body removes the waste material which makes

"Don't eat all you want.
"Food not needed for support of the system is so much extra work for the dy and requires more air to dispose

"This regimen will diminish your grocery bill and save your shoe leath-ar."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Quite a Difference,
When the Baroness Burdett-Coutts was Miss Coutts, the great heiress, it was rumozed that she was to wed the Duke of Wellington. A friend asked the duke if the rumor was true, and the duke suswered irritably; "I said Miss Angela Coutts deserved to be a duchess. I never said that I would make her one." This observation of the duke's was repeated to the heiress. She flushed on bearing it, smiled a little bitterly

"The duke should have said 'could,' not 'would.'

An Awful Threat.

Kitty-Why are you so fearfully rinm, dear? Marie-Jack made an aw ful threat last night when I rejected him. Kitty-What, to shoot himself' -Oh, worse than that. He said and never propose to me again.-New York Sun.
